

As I travel for my job with the Army, being able to get weather and traffic for cities taht i am traveling in without having to scan the radio dial and hope I find the right time and channel is a great asset. Its time we stopped taking choice away from people and let the people choose what they want/need.